Massachusetts Department of Conservation & Recreation Flood Survey

The Massachusetts Department of Conservation & Recreation (DCR) needs your help to better understand the extent and impact of groundwater flooding in our state. As part of an ongoing effort to analyze groundwater resources and flooding issues, DCR has launched a survey for all Massachusetts residents to provide valuable insights.

If you've experienced basement flooding due to groundwater in your neighborhood, please take a few minutes to complete the online survey. Your participation will contribute to a more comprehensive understanding of this issue and help inform potential solutions.

To access the survey, simply:

Visit the link: tinyurl.com/masswetbasement or scan the QR code in the image above.

Your input matters! By sharing your experiences, you can help DCR gather accurate data on the prevalence and impacts of groundwater flooding across Massachusetts. This information will be crucial in developing effective strategies to mitigate flooding and protect homes in our community and beyond.

Don't miss this opportunity to have your voice heard. Take the survey today and be part of the solution. Together, we can work towards building more resilient neighborhoods and enhancing the quality of life for all residents.

For more information about the survey or DCR's Flood Hazard Management Program, please contact Joy Duperault, State NFIP Coordinator/Director, at 857-286-0326 or joy.duperault@mass.gov.
