Exciting Progress Continues in Swampscott

S&P Upgrades Swampscott Bond Rating to AAA

Citing the town's "significant tax base growth, maintenance of very strong reserves, and increased budgetary flexibility", S&P Global Ratings has upgraded Swampscott's General Obligation Bonds from AA+ to AAA. This is great news for Swampscott, as it can lower our borrowing costs, and put us in a better position for growth and improvement projects.

S&P Global Ratings

The S&P report states that "Swampscott has demonstrated an ability to maintain balanced operations, supported by well-embedded financial planning tools and generally stable revenue and expenditures." S&P Ratings also noted Swampscott's "Stable residential tax base, with expected continued growth driven by large residential developments and ongoing demand for housing within the region".

Congratulations to all who contributed to Swampscott's efforts in this arena, particularly the Finance Committee, Town Administrator Sean Fitzgerald, Director of Finance and Administration Amy Sarro, Treasurer/Collector Patrick Luddy, the Select Board and the entire Finance team. Congratulations!

Walk to the Sea at Littles Point

In collaboration with the Open Space and Recreation Plan Committee, the town installed new signage to a recently established public way leading to one of Swampscott's most beautiful outcrops and a stunning lookout area. The public way is located at 35 Littles Point Road with signage placed at key points along the route, which is accessible from dawn to dusk. Visitors must stay on the designated path. Dogs shall be leashed.

New Five Fisherman at the Beach

If you haven't visited Fisherman's beach lately, you may have missed its newest visitors, Five Fisherman Returning From the Sea.

A generous gift of Roger and Elaine Volk, the new statue is just one of several donated by the Volks to beautify Swampscott.

A Random Act of Bagelness—Creating a Win-Win For Youths

From the minute you meet Dave Aldrich, you can feel his energy. Bump into him at the Farmers Market and buy one of his delicious bagels and he will share with you his enthusiasm. He's just one of those people, even after waking at 4 am to bake bagels. One hundred percent of the profits from Grab a Bagel go to scholarships and to fund-cloud-based curriculum for Grab the Torch.

Grab the Torch, started by Dave in 2009, teaches teens about making a difference in their communities. "Our goals are to help youth understand themselves first, discover what purposes and passions drive them and explore how they can strategically help improve the world" according to the Grab the Torch website. Grab the Bagel operates out of the JCC in Marblehead. Customers can find them at the Farmers Market and can order online and pick up the bagels the next day.

Eagle Scout Presents Tree Inventory to Swampscott Tree Committee

What's a tree inventory? Eagle Scout Elliot Pulaski from Troop 53 can tell you! Pulaski visited 174 street tree locations to update the Swampscott Public Shade Tree Inventory database, and recently presented his work to the Swampscott Tree Committee and DPW Director Gino Cresta.

Pulaski's study added tree species, GPS location, tree diameter and apparent health to the database. The 174 locations updated by Elliot and his team included primarily new trees planted over the last three to four years. His efforts were a significant contribution to Swampscott's monitoring and care of its public Health Department Senior Flu Clinic Delivered Flu Shots and Gift Cards!

A successful High Dose Flu vaccination clinic was held on September 28 at the Senior Center. Thanks to a grant from the National Council on Aging (NCOA) Vaccine Uptake Initiative, the Swampscott Health Department, along with the Boards of Health/Health Departments of Peabody, Salem, Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead, Lynn, and Nahant, were able to purchase supplies for our regional flu clinics. The first clinic, for seniors, vaccinated 57 individuals ages 65 and older with the High Dose Flu vaccine. The regional NCOA grant also gave those seniors who completed a NCOA grant survey the chance to spin the wheel for a free gift card to Market Basket!

The Swampscott Health Department is grateful to the Public Health Nurses in our region, regional staff from the North Shore Public Health Collaborative, as well as our Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) Volunteers for their help, with special thanks to Heidi Whear, Sabrina Clopton, and the Senior Center staff for promoting our clinic and helping seniors sign up for their vaccine appointments!

Swampscott/Lynn DAV Chapter Contributes $500 to Disaster Relief

The Disabled American Veterans E.F. Gilmore chapter is an active contributor to ongoing DAV Disaster Relief Program activities. In October, the Swampscott/Lynn DAV Chapter contributed $500 to support victims of the Maui wildfires and Hurricane Idalia.

"When disasters strike, DAV and its team of National Service Officers are on the ground to help our nation's heroes," Swampscott/Lynn DAV Chapter Commander Jeffrey Blonder said. "DAV provides relief through financial assistance as well as supply kits to veterans and their families so they can obtain basic necessities such as food, warm clothes and shelter."

Hadley Elementary's Field Trip to the Fire Department

Hadley Elementary School visited the fire station in October and learned all about what the firefighters do.

Students had the opportunity to help operate the fire hose and teachers got the chance to go up in the bucket on the ladder truck.

Firefighter Brittany Coppinger, along with Firefighter Gino DiGiorgio and Captain James Snow, showed students firefighter's turnout gear. Fun fact- turnout gear weighs about 60 pounds!

Firefighters Mike Salsgiver, Thomas Pitman and Gino DiGiorgio explained to students how the firepoles work.

Even the firehouse dog, Ryan, got in on the action! Ryan now has his very own Instagram account where you can follow along to see his adventures @fire_dog_ryan.
